LA GRIPPE

Is very prevalent, if not so general as it was a year ago, and the principal remedy was, and we believe is,

Old and Pure Whiskey.

We handle only that which is pure and of the best quality. We receive direct from the distillers, and we sell as we buy, absolutely pure. Our trade is principally with families who use it medicinally—and largely through the advice of the physicians who know that our liquors and wines are reliable.

Some VERY OLD Bourbon and Rye Whiskies just received—made by the best distillers in the United States—to which we invite the attention of those who have occasion to buy them. Old Brandies, Jambica and St. Croix Rum, Holland Gin, Scotch and Irish Whiskies. Champagne. All straight and reliable.

Prescription Druggist.

To accommodate our customers we have some years since put on our shelves the only complete line of Remedies used by Homoeopathic Physicians carried in the city. For this reason the impression exists in some quarters that we have only Homoeopathic goods.

Such is not the fact. On the contrary, we have one of the largest and most complete drug stocks in the city, which is in the care of competent Pharmacists of long experience in compounding and dispensing prescriptions of all kinds.

Having no interest in the sale of patent medicines we do not carry a legitimate prescription and physicians' supply business depending on the profession and the public desiring reliable drugs at reasonable prices for the maintenance of the liberal patronage bestowed on us in the past.

While extending both our Wholesale and Retail Drug Business, our Optical, Surgical and Sundry Departments are not neglected. Oculists' Prescriptions and Eye Glasses requiring special Frames and Setting are made to order and carefully adjusted. Our stock of Surgical Instruments and Dressings is complete, and personal attention is given to the selection and fitting of all appliances for dentists, druggists, etc. All our elastic goods, hose, kneecaps, and anklets are furnished fresh from our own looms, ensuring a perfect fit and the best possible wear.

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The democratic caucus in Seymour elected John Early for postmaster, and Congressman Pigott has been notified.

Hon. N. D. Sperry and wife are in Washington, D. C.

Another large crowd attended the St. Patrick's T. A. B. fair in Banquet hall last night. There was a drill by the St. Patrick's cadets. To-night there will be a cake walk by members of the St. John's Catholic club, also a bass solo by Mr. Joseph Criddle. Tomorrow night there will be a boxing match between D. Ketchley and T. Murray. Dancing is a feature. The fair continues until next Tuesday.

New Haven lodge No. 25, B. P. O. Elks, will be visited Thursday evening, February 21, by District Deputy of the state of Connecticut, George A. Reynolds of Hartford, formerly of this city. A pleasant time is expected. An Elks' social will be the order of the evening.

The members of Harmony lodge No. 5 presented Hon. A. W. Phelps with an elegant gold past master's badge in honor of his fifty-four years of membership in the lodge last evening. The badge was suitably inscribed. The presentation speech was made by Past Grand Master G. N. Moses. Later in the evening a supper was served.

Calza Percelle and Dr. D'Elia, who, it is alleged, are proprietors and editors of the Italian paper known as "Pro Patria," were arrested last night by Officers Riley and Shanahan on warrants charging them with writing and publishing offensive language, etc., in the paper. Both men were released under bonds of $100 each.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Butler of this city attended the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Curtis in Meriden last night.

Elisha Peck Garrison, Second regiment, under the command of Major Dickinson, held a drill in the armory last evening. The first battalion, under the command of Major Callahan, will drill this evening. On Wednesday evening there will be a meeting of officers to consider several important subjects.

New Haven Turners gave an exhibition at the fair of the West Haven Engine company in West Haven on Monday evening. They are talking of giving an exhibition in Turn hall after the exhibition which is to be held in the Hyperion next week.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Hyperion.

"The Maid of Plymouth" was presented for the second time in this city last evening by the Bostonians to a large and appreciative audience. The opera is founded on Longfellow's poem "The Courtship of Miles Standish." The opera was presented in a most excellent manner. The work of the orchestra and chorus singing has never been equalled in this city. All the old favorites were in the cast including Barnabee, Cowles, Frothingham and Lang and Miss Davis, Miss Hamilton, Miss Bartlett, Miss Clary and Miss Morgan.

The reappearance at the Hyperion of that immensely popular comedian, Sol Smith Russell, after an absence of two years, is the attractive announcement for to-morrow evening. He appears in the classic old English comedy, "The Heir at Law." One reason for Mr. Russell's success is the fact that coupled with his remarkable artistic powers is a distinct purity and nobility of nature—an intelligent, honest manhood—rarely met with in other walks of life and still more rarely met with in the theatrical profession. A rare treat is assured and a large sale of seats. Sale of seats now open.

The plot of "A Run on the Bank," which is to be presented on Friday night, is wound up with the rise of the curtain on the first act, and this being accomplished, the several clever vaudeville experts in the company settle down to the task of making themselves agreeable. And they succeed, for laughter is constant and enthusiasm is frequent. The credit belongs largely to Ward and Voke. Sale of seats now open.

"The Passing Show," which comes on Saturday night, has had a four months' run at the New York Casino. The piece is a combination of opera, burlesque, drama, comedy, chorus and ballet, deftly rolled into one fine entertainment. In "The Passing Show" Miss Verona Jarrico, a grand old favorite here, does a novel specialty with Mr. Charles J. Ross, formerly of Ross and Fenton. Lucy Daly will be seen with the original New York Casino band of pickaninies. John E. Henshaw, George A. Schiller, William Cameron and Gus Pixley are also members of the "110." There are also Madge Lessing, Sylvia Thorne and other footlight favorites. Sale of seats now open.

Grand Opera House.

In "She Couldn't Marry Three," which Miss Lillian Kennedy is presenting for the first three days of this week is shown what trouble may fall upon a girl because she can only marry one man at a time. The charming little soubrette, Miss Kennedy, has created in this play a new type of maidenly sweetness. Jess Brandon, the heroine of the play, is a fisherman's daughter, who is obliged to choose her husband from two good men and one bad one, who are courting her at once. She chooses wisely, an honest man, but the rejected suitor persuades her to marry with flimsy malignity. There is plenty of excitement in the play, especially in the final climax, where the villain tries to tie the hero to the railroad track upon which an express train is approaching. A real passenger locomotive steams upon the stage. The scenery showing some beautiful views of the seacoast was specially painted for this production. Miss Kennedy's songs and dances add greatly to the brightness of the play.

There will be a matinee to-day. One of the largest audiences of the season was present last night.

Florence Brindley, who is already an established favorite with our theatergoers, will give a three nights' engagement commencing Thursday, February 21, and will produce her sensational comedy drama, "The Captain's Maid." This play is constructed to please the masses, as comedy and pathos are equally divided. The scenic effects are marvelous, especially the second act, showing pier 16, North river, full sized steamboats and sailing vessels passing up and down, the act ending with a perfect fac simile of the New York police boat coming up to the pier. In fact, the scenes, etc., must be seen to be realized, as they cannot be described.

Bolt's Wonderful Theater.

Raymond Moore is the most interesting artist, perhaps, that has appeared at the Wonderland. His writing of "Sweet Marie" has made his name a household word, but it is when he sings the pretty ballad that its real meaning comes home to the hearer. "Sweet Marie" is undoubtedly to many the most popular sentimental ballad in the English language to-day. It is a splendid treat to hear Mr. Moore sing this and the other original ballads he renders. The combination that supports him is a splendid one. Hughes, Kelly and Hogan present a lively athletic comedy during which Tommy Kelly, the "Harlem Spider," and Kid Hogan, the bantam champion, put up an interesting scientific boxing bout. Pats and Timmy, the Risford brothers, Terry and Maggie Ferguson, Miss Daisy Mayer and her pickaninies, Phil and Bessie Maher, and the Robinsons, present some very clever specialties, the wonderful high jumping of Mr. Robinson being particularly attractive. It is certainly a splendid bill this combination presents, every feature of which is only less interesting than Raymond Moore's presentation of his charming original ballads.
